Safe Places Policy

of Churches of Christ in Victoria and Tasmania Inc
and all affiliated Churches and Agencies

Version 2

Approved 02.08.2024

Introduction

We believe that Churches of Christ in Victoria and Tasmania Inc (CCVT) will be doing better at building Communities of Hope and Compassion and developing Leaders to lead them when each place of ministry and mission Affiliated with CCVT is a safe place for everyone to grow in their discipleship of Jesus and in their relationships with one another.

The purpose of this policy is to set out CCVT's position in relation to safety, including the expectations that CCVT has of its churches and agencies (Affiliates).

Who This Policy Applies To

This policy applies to every individual, congregation and organisation within the CCVT, including CCVT Inc, Churches of Christ Community Care, The Properties Corporation of the Churches of Christ, Churches of Christ Financial Services, all CCVT churches and agencies (Affiliates) in Victoria and Tasmania, and CCVT's national partner Stirling Theological College.

This policy applies to all leaders, including all people appointed to paid or unpaid ministry roles, elders, deacons, board/council members, administrators, office staff, helpers and anyone appointed to positions of authority over ministries or activities run in the name of the CCVT or its Affiliates.

Commitment To Safety

CCVT is committed to being a safe place for all people. As part of our commitment to being a safe place for all people we have established CCVT Safe Church as the arm which addresses the issues related to all safety and abuse within the CCVT movement.

We believe that CCVT and its affiliates will be places of safety and refuge for all people; adults, young people and children, where they should feel safe from any threat when at a church venue, involved in church activities, or accessing services provided by the church.

We will develop and establish a Safe Church strategy that is designed on best practice models and mandatory requirements; including but not limited to sound recruitment, effective screening and selection procedures, clear boundaries, risk identification and management, training and education, support and supervision.

We will maintain and review our Code of Ethics against the ethical and mandatory standard as finalised by the CCVT Board. All CCVT accredited and non- accredited Ministers and Leaders are expected to conduct themselves by the standard. CCVT will exercise its powers according to the CCVT Code of Ethics wherever this action is deemed necessary.

We value diversity and inclusivity and do not tolerate any discriminatory practices against any people or group of people within our community.

We are committed to the inclusion, empowerment and participation of all people, and believe all people have the right to have their views and opinions valued, especially on matters that directly affect them.

We actively work to create a culture of safety and employ transparency, accountability and risk management practices to prevent any abuse, trauma or harm from occurring where possible.

CCVT has a zero-tolerance policy for any type of abuse and will report all allegations and concerns for the safety of vulnerable people to the relevant mandatory authorities.

Commitment To Victims

We recognize and acknowledge the pain and suffering of survivors of abuse. We express regret and sorrow for any hurt that may have been caused whenever our response appeared to be inappropriate or inadequate.

We are committed to establishing and maintaining a best practice model process that strives for truth and confidentiality.

We will ensure as far as possible that a compassionate response is the first priority in all allegations, even at a time when it is not yet certain that the allegations are accurate, through offering assistance, protection and care without passing judgment or prejudicing the rights of the alleged offender.

We acknowledge that concealing the truth is contrary to the character of God, unjust to victims and a disservice to offenders.

We understand and value the need for support to all parties involved in an allegation, including the complainant and the respondent, and we actively seek to provide this support.

We acknowledge the personal and public difficulties that a false, misconceived, malicious or vexatious allegation can cause for the respondent. We will take whatever steps are possible to address these difficulties.

We will assess all allegations on a case-by-case basis and where appropriate notifications of mandatory reporting requirements will be placed with the appropriate external authorities.

We will oversee and maintain a list mandatory reporting by its affiliates to ensure accountability and transparency across its movement.

We will investigate all complaints and allegations as determined by our Complaints policy and Procedure for Investigating Complaints of Breaches of the Code of Ethics.

We will maintain comprehensive, safe and secure records and communications of all complaints and allegations between ourselves and all relevant parties and stakeholders for the period as outlined in the legislation (up to 99 years).

Commitment to Child Safety

CCVT endorses and abides by the Victorian Child Safe Standards (2022) and the National Principles for Child Safe Organisations as recommended by the Royal Commission into Institutional

Responses to Child Sexual Abuse.

CCVT is committed to the participation and empowerment of all children because it is integral to our mission. We have zero tolerance policy for child abuse.

CCVT is committed to supporting children and young people by providing an environment that is physically, emotionally, culturally and spiritually safe and where their unique identities and experiences, like those of Aboriginal children, are respected and valued throughout all the levels of our church movement.

We value the voice of all children and young people and actively seek their opinions and views on matters which may impact on them in our movement, affiliates and agencies.

We consistently seek to communicate with and involve families and communities in creating, promoting and maintaining a Child Safety culture as a high priority in our movement.

We are aware children have diverse backgrounds, circumstances and needs and commit to providing ensuring their needs are met throughout all our policies, procedures and practices.

We are committed to ensuring all people working with children and young people are safe, appropriate and suitable for their roles and are supported, trained and supervised according to ensure they operate safely as per Safe Places policy.

We will ensure appropriate support and reporting mechanisms are in place for children and young people when they have concerns or complaints. All allegations and safety concerns will be treated seriously as per the CCVT Safe Church Policy, including following mandatory reporting requirements to contact authorities when we have concerns about a child's safety.

We will ensure all our physical and online environments and venues are safe places where children and young people can reach their potential and interact safely with each other and ensuring all relevant policies, procedures and monitoring are followed.

We encourage best practice, continuous improvement, ongoing reviewing of Child Safety Standards, Policies and Procedures to ensure improvement in our movement, affiliates and agencies.

We welcome ongoing legislative change that improves child safety in our movement, affiliates and agencies.

Leaders

CCVT employs strategies to embed an organisational culture of safety, including through effective recruitment, screening, supervision and training of all leaders.

Recruitment:

We develop selection criteria and advertisements for leadership roles which clearly demonstrate our commitment to safety.

We actively encourage applications from women, Aboriginal peoples, people from culturally and/or linguistically diverse backgrounds and people living with a disability.

Screening:

We carry out thorough background checks of people in both paid and unpaid leadership roles to ensure their eligibility and suitability for the role.

All pastors, elders, deacons, and anyone appointed to a role where they have general authority over the operations of the congregation are required to obtain a Working with Children Check or relevant equivalent prior to commencing in that role.

All people aged 18 and over who work with children under the age of 18 in any capacity are required to obtain a Working with Children Check or relevant equivalent prior to commencing involvement in that role.

Where exemptions apply under the Working with Children Act, Affiliates are encouraged to require a Working with Children Check as part of their local policy. This is demonstrative of our desire to meet a higher standard of practice that simply meeting the minimum legal requirements.

Supervision:

We commit to ongoing supervision of leaders through the provision of:

- Position descriptions which give a clear expectation for each role
- Adequate physical and spiritual ministry support and accountability for leaders
- A commitment to develop leaders
- A Code of Conduct which clearly states expectations of appropriate behaviour and consequences for breaches of the Code
- A well communicated process for conflict resolution and complaints handling

Training:

We have specific policies, procedures and training in place that support our leaders to achieve our commitment to providing Safe Places. CCVT encourages Affiliates to utilise the training and resources available through CCVT and other relevant training providers for all those who hold positions of leadership.

As a minimum training requirement, the Chair of the governing body, the Senior Minister/Leader, the Safety Contact Person, and the person responsible for children's ministry at each Affiliate must attend a National Council of Churches of Australia (NCCA) Safe Church Awareness Workshop.

All people involved in children's ministry must undergo training in child safety, including how to identify, assess, and minimise risks of child abuse, how to detect potential signs of child abuse and how to report any concerns appropriately.

Responding To Complaints And Concerns

We work to ensure all children, families, staff, volunteers and others involved with our activities know what to do and who to tell if they are concerned about any behaviour towards themselves or others.

Every individual must:

- take personal responsibility for their own and others' safety
- carry out responsibilities in accordance with their employment contract, position description, and Code of Ethics or Code of Conduct
- raise any issues of concern with the relevant authority (call 000 if there is immediate danger)

CCVT and Affiliates are to take their legal responsibilities seriously. Affiliates must report Child Safety issues in accordance with the CCVT Child Safety Reporting Procedure and the Victorian Government CCYP Reportable Conduct Scheme (where applicable).

Affiliates must report allegations of misconduct made against leaders in accordance with the CCVT Code of Ethics for Ministers (or any subsequent iteration).

Please note that all Ministers and Leaders have a responsibility to report conduct if they suspect a child is being abused as per the CCYP Reportable Conduct Scheme and as a Mandatory Reporter.

Reportable Conduct: Reporting to the Commission of Children and Young People, any reasonable belief of 'reportable conduct' (as defined by the Act) within three days. This is done via the Head of Entity at each affiliate and agency and reported to CCVT Safe Church office for transparency and accountability.

Mandatory Reporting: People in religious ministry are mandatory reporters and legally required to report a reasonable belief of child physical or sexual abuse to child protection authorities. Through the CCVT Safe Church Training we encourage all staff and volunteers to be ethical reporters and report all abuse as per the Safe Places policy.

Please also note that reporting Child Sexual Abuse is a community wide responsibility. All adults in Victoria who have a reasonable belief that an adult has committed a sexual offence against a child under 16 have an obligation to report that information to the police. If you do not do so you could be convicted under the Failure to Disclose legislation.

People of authority in our organisation will commit an offence if they know of a risk of child sexual abuse and have the power or responsibility to reduce or remove the risk, but negligently fail to do so. This is the Failure to Protect legislation.

Privacy

We have safeguards and practices in place to ensure any personal information is protected in accordance with the Australian Privacy Act 1988 and the CCVT Privacy Policy.

Risk Management

CCVT takes a proactive, risk management approach to safety and expects CCVT Affiliates to do the same.

We have risk management strategies in place to identify, assess, mitigate or minimise risks in both physical and online environments.

CCVT is committed to helping Affiliates to become safer places through the provision of guidance and resources and encourages Affiliates to seek assistance from CCVT's Safe Places Coordinator where needed.

CCVT will assist with safety issues at the invitation of the Affiliate, or if CCVT considers it necessary, at CCVT's instigation.

Accountability For Safety

As stated in Affinity, (and any subsequent iteration of Affinity), Affiliates agree to "ensure that all mission and ministry activities are safe places for all people". Thus, Affiliates are required to meet the minimum legislative requirements relevant to them in relation to Child Safety and Workplace Health and Safety in Victoria and Tasmania respectively, as a pre-requisite for being Affiliated with the Churches of Christ in Victoria and Tasmania.

The governing body of each Affiliate is expected to make an annual declaration to CCVT each year confirming that:

- an annual self-assessment of safety has been conducted;
- the minimum legislative requirements relevant to them are being met;
- the name and contact details of the person designated as the "Safety Contact Person" (by whatever name)

CCVT will conduct random conversational and/or written audits. Affiliates which fail to demonstrate commitment or ability to making their organisation safe will have a loading applied to their insurance premium, and risk lack of insurance coverage and potentially disaffiliation.
